

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Wednesday, May 23

2001

Thrift Savings Plan Open Season under way

The Thrift Savings Plan Open Season is under way through July 31. This is a chance for employees to start or change the amount of their contributions. The form for enrolling or increasing contributions is available on the Web at: www.tsp.gov. For more information, call Debbie Allen at 544-7536 or Ginger Martin at 544-5654.

Marshall welcomes the Institutional Capabilities Workgroup Wednesday

MESA meets 11:30 a.m. Thurs., Bldg. 4471, room C-105

Seminar teaches how to help others through stressful times

A live seminar, "Strategies for Empowering Others Through Change," will air from 11 a.m.-noon June 1 on Marshall's Continual Learning Channel 14. The seminar teaches how to help others through stressful times at work and at home. To register and receive materials, send your full name, phone number and title of the seminar by e-mail to: edtec@msfc.nasa.gov

'Journey Into Amazing Caves' opens Saturday at S&RC

Caves are one of Earth's last unexplored frontiers. MacGillivray Freeman's "Journey Into Amazing Caves," narrated by actor Liam Neeson, will be shown beginning Saturday through Sept. 24 in the Spacedome Theater at the U.S. Space & Rocket Center (S&RC). For information on show times, call 837-3400.

Tickets for Robert McBrayer's May 31 retirement reception are available through admin officers